

Bareq and its alignment with UAE schools

Bareq is closely aligned with curricula for teaching Arabic to non-native speakers, including the Kalemon formal education curriculum in the United Arab Emirates, a specialized curriculum for students whose first language is not Arabic.

The alignment map shows how Bareq's five levels correspond to the progression followed by Kalemon in UAE schools, from learning letters and sounds to developing reading, writing and advanced expression skills.

This alignment connects the learner's digital journey on Bareq with formal education in the UAE, combining the flexibility of online learning with the strengths of specialized school instruction.
